AN IDEAL SPRING

CROP PROSPECTS NEVER BETTER THAN NOW.

WILL BE LOTS OF FRUIT

Growing Season of 1913 Starts Out in Manner Pleasing to Farmers and Fruit Growers.

The farmers are optimistic about the crop prospects for this year, and the whole attention of them is now in the field and few are seen in town these days. Every farmer is putting all of the time that he possibly can right now in the fields preparing the ground for corn planting and doing the many other things that is necessary at this time of year if he would have a good crop.

The farmers say that in all of their experience on the farm they have never seen a more ideal spring for everything than this. The weather is par excellence and the ground is in the best of shape. The rains of a week or two ago came just at the right time, and at a time when they were badly needed, and with the bright warm sunshiny days following closely, conditions could not have been better had the farmers dictated to the weather man just what they wanted. The rains put the much needed moisture into the soil. The pastures are all being fitted out with the rich green dress that is always so inviting to the eye of both the farmer and his stock, and with occasional rains and good warm weather there will soon be an abundance of green feed for all of the stock.

Most of the farmers are now through sowing their oats, and in most of the fields the little green sprouts are beginning to be plainly noticeable. The attention of most of the farmers is now being turned to plowing for corn, and within a few days the click of the corn planter may be heard in every direction.

Fruit growers also say that prospects were never brighter for a bumper crop of everything in their line. The spring is now far enough advanced that there need be no particular fear for the bursting bud should it open completely within the next few days. In fact, the buds of the early fruits are quite well advanced and fruit growers say that if the good weather continues all healthy trees, bushes and vines will be loaded with blossoms. The past winter was easy on the more tender fruit and it is the opinion of nearly every fruit grower that nothing was hurt by the cold. Those who have been heard to talk of the fruit crop prospects seem to be of one mind—that there will be an abundant crop of cherries, plums, apples, peaches, grapes, strawberries and raspberries, and in fact every fruit, whether it grows on tree, vine, bush or plant.

The gist of the whole situation is that the growing season of 1913 has started out right, and that there is now every reason to believe that it will be a good and prosperous year for everyone so far as the crops are concerned.

WILL KNOW SOON.

Officials of Milk Condensing Plant at Burlington Junction Well Pleased With Conditions There.

Burlington Junction will know in fifteen days whether she will secure the Hevetia milk condensing plant. A. Meyer, secretary and treasurer of the Helvetia company at Highland, Ill., and W. T. Nardin of St. Louis, a director of the company, were in Burlington Junction Tuesday and inspected the facilities and took a seventy-mile drive over the country. It will be necessary to secure 2,000 milk cows.

The officials expressed themselves as well pleased with the conditions at the Junction. They left that town for Red Oak, Ia., and after visiting another town or two in this section of the country, will make a report to the board of directors of the company, which will be in Highland, Ill., soon. At that time it will be decided where to locate the plant.

TRY TO REVIVE LEAGUE.

Effort Being Made to Revive the Mink League.

Considerable effort has been directed within the past week or two toward reviving the Mink league. Ira Bidwell of Kansas City, who owns the franchise of Hiawatha, Kan., has called meetings in several cities, some of which were members of the league last season, and others which are expressing a willingness to join in the event the old league is given new life. Meetings have been held by Mr. Bidwell at Beatrice, Wymore, Fairbury, Nebraska City and Auburn, Neb., and at Humboldt, Ia., for the purpose of creating the necessary interest.

It is understood that in some of these cities considerable encouragement has been met with, while in others interest was lacking, some thinking that it was too late in the season to secure good players. It is understood that Falls City, Nebraska City, Auburn and Fairbury have expressed a desire to remain in the league, and that Wymore has given its assurance that it would put up the required guarantee. It is thought that Wymore and some other town, probably Fairbury, will have a joint team.

While the movement has met with some discouragement, it appears likely that it will succeed.

TO GIVE GOLD MEDAL.

To School Boy or Girl Who Writes Best Composition on Earth Roads.

A gold medal to the school boy or girl between the ages of 10 and 15 who writes the best composition, not to exceed 800 words, on the repair and maintenance of earth roads, is to be awarded by Logan Waller Page, director, office of public roads, United States department of agriculture, Washington, D. C. All compositions must be submitted to Mr. Page before May 15, 1913, and the medal will be awarded as soon thereafter as the compositions can be graded. The composition may be based on knowledge gained from books or other sources, but no quotations should be made.

After many years' experience in dealing with the public road situation of the country, it is Mr. Page's belief that ignorance on the subject of repair and maintenance of roads is as much the cause of their bad condition as any other one factor. It is expected that the competition will bring about a better understanding of the subject of repair and maintenance in the rural districts.

Many children living in the rural districts have experienced the disadvantages of roads made impassable through a lack of proper maintenance, and it is expected that their interest in the competition will stimulate greater interest among the parents. Bad roads have prevented many children from obtaining a proper education, and have even prevented doctors from reaching the side of rural patients in time to save their lives.

Any child between the ages mentioned, attending a country school, may compete. Only one side of the paper must be written on; each page should be numbered; the name, age, and address of the writer, and the name and location of the school which he or she is attending must be plainly written at the top of the first page. The announcement of the competition has been sent to the superintendents of schools in the rural districts. No further information can be obtained from the office of public roads. This announcement should be plain to everyone, and all children will thus start on a basis of equality.

FIRE LOSS SMALL

FIVE-YEAR RECORD LESS THAN $4,000 PER YEAR.

$30,000 IN PREMIUMS

Maryville Has Excellent Fire Record—Meeting in Jefferson City Friday to Discuss Situation.

The fire losses in Maryville since May 1, 1908, have been figured out by Burt M. Rowley, fire chief, and they amount to $18,128, or an average of $3,625.60 a year. The fire losses were figured from the fire department book as kept by the chief of the department.

A very low estimate of the fire insurance premiums paid out by the people here is $30,000 per year. If the fire losses only amount to an average of $3,625.60 a year, and with the fire insurance companies receiving over $30,000 a year, it seems that these companies can afford to do business in Maryville and make good money.

The fire insurance companies are making the claim that they can't do business in the state, owing to the Orr law, which recently passed the legislature, and because they are not making money out of this state. Many are of the opinion that the insurance companies are "bluffing" in their withdrawal from the state. If Maryville is a fair example of what the insurance companies received a year and what they pay out for fire losses in the cities of the state, it looks as if these companies would be making a good profit.

A conference is to be held in Jefferson City Friday, and representatives of all fire insurance companies in the Union and Western bureaus operating in Missouri, and delegations of business men from Kansas City and St. Louis will confer with Governor Major and the state officials on that day in hope of reaching an agreement by which the fire insurance companies may remain in the state.

MT. AYR.

Oats sowing is about all done except a few. Some have sown clover on account of extremely high prices.

Protracted meeting has begun at Bedison, with quite a number in attendance.

The weather turned almost too cool for the ice cream social at the church Friday eve. Cream went off slow.

Friday was closing day of Mt. Ayr school, being one among the best we have had lately. The patrons celebrated it by bringing well filled baskets, an elegant dinner being served, after which a nice program was rendered by the pupils of the school. They all certainly did their parts well, and at 3:30 o'clock they were dismissed, bidding their teacher farewell.

Ed Dick, who recently went to St. Joseph to consult a physician about his eye, is suffering from cancer of the eye ball and will go to St. Francis hospital and have it removed in the near future.

Rev. Royston filled his regular appointment at the church Sunday.

Charles Mozingo has employed Mort Smith to help him this year.

John House is quite poorly, suffering from complication of diseases.

Anderson Nelson, who recently purchased the Frank Trusty farm, has torn the house all away and is erecting a nice cottage on the same site. Mr. McKee of Ravenwood is the constructor.

John M. Hall is just finishing up his oats sowing.

Returned to Montana.

Mrs. R. H. Martin and children left Tuesday evening for their home in Elso, Mont., after spending the winter in Maryville. Mrs. Martin is a daughter of Rev. and Mrs. C. H. John.

How to Drive Bad Thought Out of the Mind.

In the May Woman's Home Companion Ralph Waldo Trine writes a very practical and interesting article on "The Mental Law of Habit." It is an article full of suggestions about habit forming and habit breaking. Following is an extract:

"In the matter of breaking away from a habit already formed, especially if one is for the time being under the domination, as we say, of that habit, mental or physical, it is many times very difficult to keep the thought or the recurrence of the thought out of the mind. The one safe rule of action, or the course of action that makes the accomplishment easier, is, as quickly as the undesirable thought presents itself, to put it out of the mind instantly; dalliance with it, and thereby allowing it to assume large proportions, makes it continually harder to check it. That which at first is but a tiny flame will grow, if we act too tardily, into one of consuming proportions; and we will find ourselves under its domination again.

"Fortunately there is a fact which if we once fully understand it, will be of tremendous aid at this particular point. It might be called a 'Law of Indirectness,' or a 'Law of Substitution.' To get rid of an undesirable thought it is easier to put into the mind some other object of thought which will replace the undesirable one than to tussle with it and endeavor to put it out directly. So when it presents itself again, instantly throw the mind along some other line, the opposite of the undesirable one, or along any line that it will follow most easily and naturally, will enable it to be free from the undesirable one, which will gradually decrease in its power, thereby losing its hold, while the mind is growing continually along the lines of more effective self control. It is simply shutting out objectionable and undesirable thoughts and putting desirable, any desirable ones, in their place. If this course is persisted in the undesirable loses its hold and disappears in time completely."

To Invite Conference Here.

The Woman's Foreign Missionary society of the Buchanan Street Methodist church met at the home of its president, Mrs. E. B. Sheldon, Tuesday afternoon. Several matters of business were considered, and it was voted to send a delegate to the annual conference, which meets in Richmond, Mo., May 13th to 16th. The matter of inviting the conference to meet in Maryville next year was presented to the society and met with their approbation. Seventy-five dollars was pledged toward the support of Miss Combs, a missionary from this district, in China. After the business session the following program was given: Vocal duet, "Light at Evening Time," was sung by Misses Cook and Hinkle; reading on "Brazil; Its Commercial Resources, Its Need of the Bible," by Mrs. H. K. Taylor. A paper was read by Mrs. Heideman, "The Indian, Our Nation's Ward." Miss Eva Ashford read a paper on "The Needs of the Mountain Districts." After singing one verse of "Blest Be the Tie," the meeting closed with the Lord's prayer repeated in concert. Refreshments were served by the hostess. Next meeting will be with Mrs. Wilderman.

Met With Miss Jackson.

The Arts and Crafts department of the Twentieth Century club held its best meeting on Monday afternoon at the home of Miss Elise Jackson. "How to Identify Old China" (discussion), was led by Mrs. Scribner Beech, Sr.; "Story of the Willow Ware," by Mrs. V. I. Moore; "Modern China Painting," by Miss Anna Dooley; "Round Table," leader, Mrs. James Colby; and exhibitions of heirlooms and history.

The subject assigned Miss Laura Barmann was "White House Collection." The facts and date assembled by Miss Barmann in regard to what will prove one of the most interesting historical collections to be found in the country and now nearing completion in the White House at Washington, is of such general interest that we cannot refrain from publishing extracts from her paper.

"It is a collection of presidential ware, largely composed of China, but also containing a few pieces of plate, which was begun by Mrs. Roosevelt soon after she became mistress of the famous old mansion.

"It was during McKinley's administration that it was first realized how comparatively little of the China or plate was left in the mansion which had been used through the administrations of the various presidents. Mr. A. Bingham was supervisor of the White House at the time, but before this had served as military aid to Berlin and Rome, and while there noted the veneration and care bestowed upon the royal residence and its belonging. It did not take him long to discover the painful lack of that president's house, so he, it was, that awakened an interest in the matter.

"Several of the mistresses of the White House had thought there should be some kind of a collection in the mansion to help memorialize the different executives, but nothing had been successfully finished from the plans.

"It has unfortunately happened in a number of instances, that with the incoming of a new administration, the president's house has been stripped of almost everything old and then refurnished. This helps to explain the somewhat surprising fact that when the search was undertaken by General Bingham it was found there was not a complete set of china left, and the parts of sets which were there could not be identified with more than seven administration. These were from those called the Lincoln, the Grant, the Hayes, the Arthur, the Cleveland, the Harrison, and the McKinley sets. But upon investigation it was revealed that of this number of presidents only three had ordered complete dinner services of china. The others simply supplemented the ware already there with the pieces required as they needed them.

"Mrs. Roosevelt has always taken the greatest interest in everything pertaining to American history. She saw that it lay within her power to preserve specimens of historic ware. She designed two cabinets and had them placed in the lower last corridor of the mansion where they could be inspected by all visitors. Then a thorough study of all the china in the house was made by someone appointed for that task and the pieces were selected that should be placed in the cabinets. While this work was being done the new state dining set which Mrs. Roosevelt had ordered for the White House arrived, including the pieces chosen for the cabinets.

"The china which Mrs. Roosevelt selected could not be in better taste. It was wedgewood and decorated in simple colonial patterns of gold, with the great seal enameled in colors on each dish.

"The plates selected by Mrs. Cleveland were also exquisite wedgewood, and one of the odd flag design bon-bon dishes, used first at the Cleveland state dinners, also included on the the Cleveland shelf.

"Mrs. Harrison was very artistic, and she greatly desired to have goldenrod adopted as the national flower. When she found that she would have to order some new china, she designed the decoration for it, combining the golden rod and leaf with the Indian corn and stalk. On each piece was this design with the coat-of-arms of the United States, and a rim of golden stars.

"The set contracted for by Mrs. Hays was the largest one ever brought into the president's house. She had an artist design the decorations. He invented them to represent the flora and fanna of every state in the Union and succeeded fairly well. The back of each piece bears the coat-of-arms. Nine pieces of this china were placed in the collection.

"And so on, every president had their own selection of china, all exquisitely beautiful, but so different in pattern. It is hoped this cabinet of china representing the different administrations, which is a fine beginning, will be carried on now until it contains some ware representative of every administration.

"All but about three or four are represented, but an effort is being made to obtain some pieces from the descendants of those families. It is not an easy matter to secure this ware, which is of such historic and intrinsic value."

Legislature Believed Bent on Passing Measure.

MAY BE REFERRED TO PEOPLE

President Wilson Sends Long Telegrams to Governor Johnson and Presiding Officers of Legislature and Receives Reassuring Reply.

Washington, April 23.—An exchange of telegrams between President Wilson and Governor Hiram Johnson of California, expressing on one hand an appeal that no anti-land legislation discriminatory to Japan be passed, and on the other the assurance from California that no violation of treaty obligations was contemplated, left the White House and official circles uncertain as to future developments.

Governor Johnson's response to President Wilson's telegram was taken at the White House to be of a friendly and reassuring nature. When it was pointed out to officials that notwithstanding assurances that no treaty obligations would be violated Governor Johnson had used in his telegram the language "relating to aliens ineligible to citizenship" in forecasting the passage of the assembly bill containing that phraseology, against which Secretary Bryan in his first telegram to Governor Johnson had registered strong protest.

To Bar All Aliens.

Later, however, news from Sacramento, indicating that the California governor and legislators were bent on passing a bill specifically excluding from land ownership all aliens ineligible to citizenship, created an air of uncertainty with respect to the developments in Sacramento.

If a bill is passed over the protest from Washington it has been suggested to the federal government that influential Democrats could bring about a referendum, through which the people of California might vote on the merits of the proposal. As a last resort, however, a test case in the courts is confidently expected by legal advisers of the government here to clear up satisfactorly the entire question.

The president will discuss the situation fully today with the Democratic representatives in congress from California.

The president's telegram to Governor Johnson and legislative leaders in California was as follows:

Appeals to People.

"I speak upon the assumption which I am sure is well founded, that the people of California don't desire their representatives, and that their representatives don't wish or intend in any circumstances to embarrass the government of the United States in its dealings with a nation with whom it has most earnestly and cordially sought to maintain relations of genuine friendship and good will, and that least of all do they desire to do anything that might impair treaty obligations or cast a doubt upon the honor and good faith of the nation and its government.

"I, therefore, appeal with the utmost confidence to the people, the governor and the legislature of California to act in the matter now under consideration in a manner that cannot from any point of view be fairly challenged or called in question. If they deem it necessary to exclude all aliens who have not declared their intentions to become citizens from the privileges of land ownership they can do so along lines already followed in the laws of many of the other states and many foreign countries, including Japan, itself. Insidious discrimination will inevitably draw in question the treaty obligations of the United States I register my very earnest and very respectful protest against discrimination in this case, not only because I deem it my duty to do so as the chief executive of the nation, but also, and the more readily, because I believe the people and the legislative authorities of California will generously respond the moment the matter is frankly presented to them as a question of national policy and of national honor. If they have ignored this point of view it is, I am sure, because they did not realize what and how much was involved."

PROGRESS ON CANAL

Colonel Goethals Hopes to Pass Ship Through This Year.

Washington, April 23.—Colonel Goethals, chief engineer of the Panama canal, in a report to the war department, reiterated the hope he expressed some time ago that he would pass a ship through the canal before the close of the present year. The statement came in response to an inquiry from Secretary Garrison as to whether it would be possible to grant the request of Captain Roald Amundsen, the explorer, that he be allowed to take his ship Fram through the canal when he starts for the Antarctic regions next winter.

Pope's Cough Better and Fever Gone.

Rome, April 23.—The pope was much less troubled by his cough and he was also without fever. As this was the sixth successive day in which his temperature had not risen above normal, the physicians decided that they would shortly be able to limit their visits to one daily.

Summer Board in Colorado Very Moderate Charges

"I'd like to go to Colorado," said a man the other day, "but it costs so much to live there that I'm afraid I—"

"Forget it," said his friend, who had spent a month last summer seeing the show places of the Wonder State. "I had the same idea myself last year until I got that folder the Burlington gets up telling the hotel rates. And I was mightily surprised to find that, besides the hotels, which are as elaborate as you please, there are hundreds of good, cleanly, wholesome ranch houses in Colorado, where the rates are as low as $8.00 a week, and they give you mighty good fare."

That folder is published by the Burlington railroad to show folks how they can enjoy a vacation in Colorado at a very reasonable expense. And I'd like to mail you a copy of it—free. It tells all about the country, gives a complete list of hotels and boarding houses, addresses, rates, conveniences, elevation and nearby attractions.

Let me send these, and if you wish I can tell you all about the trains and cost of railway tickets to the most wonderfully charming country in America. Send me a postal quick.

HANGING ON STRAP DISFIGURES HIM.

St. Louis, April 23.—Did you ever see a strap hanger's bump? W. M. Price, 5507 Vernon avenue, has one from riding on St. Louis street cars for thirteen years. He is the manager of a tailoring firm.

It is on the second finger of the right hand. In all his years of strap hanging this finger, Price says, is the one that has stood the brunt of the accompanying pressure and strain. Hence the bump.

"I am going to have an operation performed and send the bill to the street car company," he said.

STOPS HAWKING IN MORNING.

Do you, dear reader, really want to forever rid yourself of catarrh? Do you like to hawk and strain and choke and upset your stomach trying to get that accumulation of mucus from your throat every morning?

It's easy to end catarrh if you will only try. Go to the Orear-Henry Drug Co. today; say "I want a Booth's HYOMEI outfit." Take it home; breathe according to directions the pleasant germ-killing balsams from the Eucalyptus forests of Australia, and if it doesn't stop hawking, snuffling, clear up your stuffed-up head and drive out all catarrhal misery, money back.

One dollar secures a complete outfit, including inhaler. Extra bottles if needed, 50c. Just breathe it—no stomach dosing.—Advertisement.

SAVED HIS SON.

From Constitutional Decline.

So many cases like this are coming to our attention for the benefit of fathers and mothers of weak, sickly, ailing children in thi svicinity we publish the following letter: Mr. Richard Rush of Columbus, Ind., says: "I believe I am indebted to the valuable medicinal properties of Vinol for the health of my little son Dale. He had a severe attack of whooping cough and measles, which affected his lungs and general constitution. We tried several other remedies without benefit, then commenced using Vinol, and I take pleasure in acknowledging my confidence in its restorative and reconstructive virtues, for my little son is the picture of health now, all due to the use of Vinol."

This is because th child needed the strengthening cod liver elements and the tonic iron that Vinol contains. No oil, delicious taste. Children love it. We give back your money if Vinol does not do all we claim. Orear-Henry Drug Co., Maryville, Mo.—Advertisement.

CROP PROSPECTS NEVER BETTER THAN NOW.

WILL BE LOTS OF FRUIT

The farmers are optimistic about the crop prospects for this year, and the whole attention of them is now in the field and few are seen in town these days. Every farmer is putting all of the time that he possibly can right now in the fields preparing the ground for corn planting and doing the many other things that is necessary at this time of year if he would have a good crop.

The farmers say that in all of their experience on the farm they have never seen a more ideal spring for everything than this. The weather is par excellence and the ground is in the best of shape. The rains of a week or two ago came just at the right time, and at a time when they were badly needed, and with the bright warm sunshiny days following closely, conditions could not have been better had the farmers dictated to the weather man just what they wanted. The rains put the much needed moisture into the soil. The pastures are all being fitted out with the rich green dress that is always so inviting to the eye of both the farmer and his stock, and with occasional rains and good warm weather there will soon be an abundance of green feed for all of the stock.

Most of the farmers are now through sowing their oats, and in most of the fields the little green sprouts are beginning to be plainly noticeable. The attention of most of the farmers is now being turned to plowing for corn, and within a few days the click of the corn planter may be heard in every direction.

Fruit growers also say that prospects were never brighter for a bumper crop of everything in their line. The spring is now far enough advanced that there need be no particular fear for the bursting bud should it open completely within the next few days. In fact, the buds of the early fruits are quite well advanced and fruit growers say that if the good weather continues all healthy trees, bushes and vines will be loaded with blossoms. The past winter was easy on the more tender fruit and it is the opinion of nearly every fruit grower that nothing was hurt by the cold. Those who have been heard to talk of the fruit crop prospects seem to be of one mind—that there will be an abundant crop of cherries, plums, apples, peaches, grapes, strawberries and raspberries, and in fact every fruit, whether it grows on tree, vine, bush or plant.

The gist of the whole situation is that the growing season of 1913 has started out right, and that there is now every reason to believe that it will be a good and prosperous year for everyone so far as the crops are concerned.

WILL KNOW SOON.

Officials of Milk Condensing Plant at Burlington Junction Well Pleased With Conditions There.

Burlington Junction will know in fifteen days whether she will secure the Hevetia milk condensing plant. A. Meyer, secretary and treasurer of the Helvetia company at Highland, Ill., and W. T. Nardin of St. Louis, a director of the company, were in Burlington Junction Tuesday and inspected the facilities and took a seventy-mile drive over the country. It will be necessary to secure 2,000 milk cows.

The officials expressed themselves as well pleased with the conditions at the Junction. They left that town for Red Oak, Ia., and after visiting another town or two in this section of the country, will make a report to the board of directors of the company, which will be in Highland, Ill., soon. At that time it will be decided where to locate the plant.

TRY TO REVIVE LEAGUE.

Effort Being Made to Revive the Mink League.

Considerable effort has been directed within the past week or two toward reviving the Mink league. Ira Bidwell of Kansas City, who owns the franchise of Hiawatha, Kan., has called meetings in several cities, some of which were members of the league last season, and others which are expressing a willingness to join in the event the old league is given new life. Meetings have been held by Mr. Bidwell at Beatrice, Wymore, Fairbury, Nebraska City and Auburn, Neb., and at Humboldt, Ia., for the purpose of creating the necessary interest.

It is understood that in some of these cities considerable encouragement has been met with, while in others interest was lacking, some thinking that it was too late in the season to secure good players. It is understood that Falls City, Nebraska City, Auburn and Fairbury have expressed a desire to remain in the league, and that Wymore has given its assurance that it would put up the required guarantee. It is thought that Wymore and some other town, probably Fairbury, will have a joint team.

While the movement has met with some discouragement, it appears likely that it will succeed.

TO GIVE GOLD MEDAL.

To School Boy or Girl Who Writes Best Composition on Earth Roads.

A gold medal to the school boy or girl between the ages of 10 and 15 who writes the best composition, not to exceed 800 words, on the repair and maintenance of earth roads, is to be awarded by Logan Waller Page, director, office of public roads, United States department of agriculture, Washington, D. C. All compositions must be submitted to Mr. Page before May 15, 1913, and the medal will be awarded as soon thereafter as the compositions can be graded. The composition may be based on knowledge gained from books or other sources, but no quotations should be made.

After many years' experience in dealing with the public road situation of the country, it is Mr. Page's belief that ignorance on the subject of repair and maintenance of roads is as much the cause of their bad condition as any other one factor. It is expected that the competition will bring about a better understanding of the subject of repair and maintenance in the rural districts.

Many children living in the rural districts have experienced the disadvantages of roads made impassable through a lack of proper maintenance, and it is expected that their interest in the competition will stimulate greater interest among the parents. Bad roads have prevented many children from obtaining a proper education, and have even prevented doctors from reaching the side of rural patients in time to save their lives.

Any child between the ages mentioned, attending a country school, may compete. Only one side of the paper must be written on; each page should be numbered; the name, age, and address of the writer, and the name and location of the school which he or she is attending must be plainly written at the top of the first page. The announcement of the competition has been sent to the superintendents of schools in the rural districts. No further information can be obtained from the office of public roads. This announcement should be plain to everyone, and all children will thus start on a basis of equality.

FIRE LOSS SMALL

Maryville Has Excellent Fire Record—Meeting in Jefferson City Friday to Discuss Situation.

The fire losses in Maryville since May 1, 1908, have been figured out by Burt M. Rowley, fire chief, and they amount to $18,128, or an average of $3,625.60 a year. The fire losses were figured from the fire department book as kept by the chief of the department.

A very low estimate of the fire insurance premiums paid out by the people here is $30,000 per year. If the fire losses only amount to an average of $3,625.60 a year, and with the fire insurance companies receiving over $30,000 a year, it seems that these companies can afford to do business in Maryville and make good money.

The fire insurance companies are making the claim that they can't do business in the state, owing to the Orr law, which recently passed the legislature, and because they are not making money out of this state. Many are of the opinion that the insurance companies are "bluffing" in their withdrawal from the state. If Maryville is a fair example of what the insurance companies received a year and what they pay out for fire losses in the cities of the state, it looks as if these companies would be making a good profit.

A conference is to be held in Jefferson City Friday, and representatives of all fire insurance companies in the Union and Western bureaus operating in Missouri, and delegations of business men from Kansas City and St. Louis will confer with Governor Major and the state officials on that day in hope of reaching an agreement by which the fire insurance companies may remain in the state.

MT. AYR.

Oats sowing is about all done except a few. Some have sown clover on account of extremely high prices.

Protracted meeting has begun at Bedison, with quite a number in attendance.

The weather turned almost too cool for the ice cream social at the church Friday eve. Cream went off slow.

Friday was closing day of Mt. Ayr school, being one among the best we have had lately. The patrons celebrated it by bringing well filled baskets, an elegant dinner being served, after which a nice program was rendered by the pupils of the school. They all certainly did their parts well, and at 3:30 o'clock they were dismissed, bidding their teacher farewell.

Ed Dick, who recently went to St. Joseph to consult a physician about his eye, is suffering from cancer of the eye ball and will go to St. Francis hospital and have it removed in the near future.

Rev. Royston filled his regular appointment at the church Sunday.

Charles Mozingo has employed Mort Smith to help him this year.

John House is quite poorly, suffering from complication of diseases.

Anderson Nelson, who recently purchased the Frank Trusty farm, has torn the house all away and is erecting a nice cottage on the same site. Mr. McKee of Ravenwood is the constructor.

John M. Hall is just finishing up his oats sowing.

Returned to Montana.

Mrs. R. H. Martin and children left Tuesday evening for their home in Elso, Mont., after spending the winter in Maryville. Mrs. Martin is a daughter of Rev. and Mrs. C. H. John.

How to Drive Bad Thought Out of the Mind.

In the May Woman's Home Companion Ralph Waldo Trine writes a very practical and interesting article on "The Mental Law of Habit." it is an article full of suggestions about habit forming and habit breaking. Following is an extract:

"In the matter of breaking away from a habit already formed, especially if one is for the time being under the domination, as we say, of that habit, mental or physical, it is many times very difficult to keep the thought or the recurrence of the thought out of the mind. The one safe rule of action, or the course of action that makes the accomplishment easier, is, as quickly as the undesirable thought presents itself, to put it out of the mind instantly; dalliance with it, and thereby allowing it to assume large proportions, makes it continually harder to check it. That which at first is but a tiny flame will grow, if we act too tardily, into one of consuming proportions; and we will find ourselves under its domination again.

"Fortunately there is a fact which if we once fully understand it, will be of tremendous aid at this particular point. It might be called a 'Law of Indirectness,' or a 'Law of Substitution.' To get rid of an undesirable thought it is easier to put into the mind some other object of thought which will replace the undesirable one than to tussle with it and endeavor to put it out directly. So when it presents itself again, instantly throw the mind along some other line, the opposite of the undesirable one, or along any line that it will follow most easily and naturally, will enable it to be free from the undesirable one, which will gradually decrease in its power, thereby losing its hold, while the mind is growing continually along the lines of more effective self control. It is simply shutting out objectionable and undesirable thoughts and putting desirable, any desirable ones, in their place. If this course is persisted in the undesirable loses its hold and disappears in time completely."

The Arts and Crafts department of the Twentieth Century club held its best meeting on Monday afternoon at the home of Miss Elise Jackson. "How to Identify Old China" (discussion), was led by Mrs. Scribner Beech, Sr.; "Story of the Willow Ware," by Mrs. V. I. Moore; "Modern China Painting," by Miss Anna Dooley; "Round Table," leader, Mrs. James Colby; and exhibitions of heirlooms and history.

The subject assigned Miss Laura Barmann was "White House Collection." The facts and date assembled by Miss Barmann in regard to what will prove one of the most interesting historical collections to be found in the country and now nearing completion in the White House at Washington, is of such general interest that we cannot refrain from publishing extracts from her paper.

"It is a collection of presidential ware, largely composed of China, but also containing a few pieces of plate, which was begun by Mrs. Roosevelt soon after she became mistress of the famous old mansion.

"It was during McKinley's administration that it was first realized how comparatively little of the China or plate was left in the mansion which had been used through the administrations of the various presidents. Mr. A. Bingham was supervisor of the White House at the time, but before this had served as military aid to Berlin and Rome, and while there noted the veneration and care bestowed upon the royal residence and its belonging. It did not take him long to discover the painful lack of that president's house, so he, it was, that awakened an interest in the matter.

"Several of the mistresses of the White House had thought there should be some kind of a collection in the mansion to help memorialize the different executives, but nothing had been successfully finished from the plans.

"It has unfortunately happened in a number of instances, that with the incoming of a new administration, the president's house has been stripped of almost everything old and then refurnished. This helps to explain the somewhat surprising fact that when the search was undertaken by General Bingham it was found there was not a complete set of china left, and the parts of sets which were there could not be identified with more than seven administration. These were from those called the Lincoln, the Grant, the Hayes, the Arthur, the Cleveland, the Harrison, and the McKinley sets. But upon investigation it was revealed that of this number of presidents only three had ordered complete dinner services of china. The others simply supplemented the ware already there with the pieces required as they needed them.

"Mrs. Roosevelt has always taken the greatest interest in everything pertaining to American history. She saw that it lay within her power to preserve specimens of historic ware. She designed two cabinets and had them placed in the lower last corridor of the mansion where they could be inspected by all visitors. Then a thorough study of all the china in the house was made by someone appointed for that task and the pieces were selected that should be placed in the cabinets. While this work was being done the new state dining set which Mrs. Roosevelt had ordered for the White House arrived, including the pieces chosen for the cabinets.

"The china which Mrs. Roosevelt selected could not be in better taste. It was wedgewood and decorated in simple colonial patterns of gold, with the great seal enameled in colors on each dish.

"The plates selected by Mrs. Cleveland were also exquisite wedgewood, and one of the odd flag design bon-bon dishes, used first at the Cleveland state dinners, also included on the the Cleveland shelf.

"Mrs. Harrison was very artistic, and she greatly desired to have goldenrod adopted as the national flower. When she found that she would have to order some new china, she designed the decoration for it, combining the golden rod and leaf with the Indian corn and stalk. On each piece was this design with the coat-of-arms of the United States, and a rim of golden stars.

"The set contracted for by Mrs. Hays was the largest one ever brought into the president's house. She had an artist design the decorations. He invented them to represent the flora and fanna of every state in the Union and succeeded fairly well. The back of each piece bears the coat-of-arms. Nine pieces of this china were placed in the collection.

"And so on, every president had their own selection of china, all exquisitely beautiful, but so different in pattern. It is hoped this cabinet of china representing the different administrations, which is a fine beginning, will be carried on now until it contains some ware representative of every administration.

"All but about three or four are represented, but an effort is being made to obtain some pieces from the descendants of those families. It is not an easy matter to secure this ware, which is of such historic and intrinsic value."

MAY BE REFERRED TO PEOPLE

President Wilson Sends Long Telegrams to Governor Johnson and Presiding Officers of Legislature and Receives Reassuring Reply.

Washington, April 23.—An exchange of telegrams between President Wilson and Governor Hiram Johnson of California, expressing on one hand an appeal that no anti-land legislation discriminatory to Japan be passed, and on the other the assurance from California that no violation of treaty obligations was contemplated, left the White House and official circles uncertain as to future developments.

Governor Johnson's response to President Wilson's telegram was taken at the White House to be of a friendly and reassuring nature. When it was pointed out to officials that notwithstanding assurances that no treaty obligations would be violated Governor Johnson had used in his telegram the language "relating to aliens ineligible to citizenship" in forecasting the passage of the assembly bill containing that phraseology, against which Secretary Bryan in his first telegram to Governor Johnson had registered strong protest.

To Bar All Aliens.

Later, however, news from Sacramento, indicating that the California governor and legislators were bent on passing a bill specifically excluding from land ownership all aliens ineligible to citizenship, created an air of uncertainty with respect to the developments in Sacramento.

If a bill is passed over the protest from Washington it has been suggested to the federal government that influential Democrats could bring about a referendum, through which the people of California might vote on the merits of the proposal. As a last resort, however, a test case in the courts is confidently expected by legal advisers of the government here to clear up satisfactorly the entire question.

The president will discuss the situation fully today with the Democratic representatives in congress from California.

The president's telegram to Governor Johnson and legislative leaders in California was as follows:

Appeals to People.

"I speak upon the assumption which I am sure is well founded, that the people of California don't desire their representatives, and that their representatives don't wish or intend in any circumstances to embarrass the government of the United States in its dealings with a nation with whom it has most earnestly and cordially sought to maintain relations of genuine friendship and good will, and that least of all do they desire to do anything that might impair treaty obligations or cast a doubt upon the honor and good faith of the nation and its government.

"I, therefore, appeal with the utmost confidence to the people, the governor and the legislature of California to act in the matter now under consideration in a manner that cannot from any point of view be fairly challenged or called in question. If they deem it necessary to exclude all aliens who have not declared their intentions to become citizens from the privileges of land ownership they can do so along lines already followed in the laws of many of the other states and many foreign countries, including Japan, itself. Insidious discrimination will inevitably draw in question the treaty obligations of the United States. I register my very earnest and very respectful protest against discrimination in this case, not only because I deem it my duty to do so as the chief executive of the nation, but also, and the more readily, because I believe the people and the legislative authorities of California will generously respond the moment the matter is frankly presented to them as a question of national policy and of national honor. If they have ignored this point of view it is, I am sure, because they did not realize what and how much was involved."

Colonel Goethals Hopes to Pass Ship Through This Year.

Washington, April 23.—Colonel Goethals, chief engineer of the Panama canal, in a report to the war department, reiterated the hope he expressed some time ago that he would pass a ship through the canal before the close of the present year. The statement came in response to an inquiry from Secretary Garrison as to whether it would be possible to grant the request of Captain Roald Amundsen, the explorer, that he be allowed to take his ship Fram through the canal when he starts for the Antarctic regions next winter.

Pope's Cough Better and Fever Gone.

Rome, April 23.—The pope was much less troubled by his cough and he was also without fever. As this was the sixth successive day in which his temperature had not risen above normal, the physicians decided that they would shortly be able to limit their visits to one daily.

Summer Board in Colorado Very Moderate Charges

"I'd like to go to Colorado," said a man the other day, "but it costs so much to live there that I'm afraid I—"

"Forget it," said his friend, who had spent a month last summer seeing the show places of the Wonder State. "I had the same idea myself last year until I got that folder the Burlington gets up telling the hotel rates. And I was mightily surprised to find that, besides the hotels, which are as elaborate as you please, there are hundreds of good, cleanly, wholesome ranch houses in Colorado, where the rates are as low as $8.00 a week, and they give you mighty good fare."

That folder is published by the Burlington railroad to show folks how they can enjoy a vacation in Colorado at a very reasonable expense. And I'd like to mail you a copy of it—free. It tells all about the country, gives a complete list of hotels and boarding houses, addresses, rates, conveniences, elevation and nearby attractions.

Let me send these, and if you wish I can tell you all about the trains and cost of railway tickets to the most wonderfully charming country in America. Send me a postal quick.

HANGING ON STRAP DISFIGURES HIM.

St. Louis, April 23.—Did you ever see a strap hanger's bump? W. M. Price, 5507 Vernon avenue, has one from riding on St. Louis street cars for thirteen years. He is the manager of a tailoring firm.

It is on the second finger of the right hand. In all his years of strap hanging this finger, Price says, is the one that has stood the brunt of the accompanying pressure and strain. Hence the bump.

"I am going to have an operation performed and send the bill to the street car company," he said.

SAVED HIS SON.

From Constitutional Decline.

So many cases like this are coming to our attention for the benefit of fathers and mothers of weak, sickly, ailing children in thi svicinity we publish the following letter: Mr. Richard Rush of Columbus, Ind., says: "I believe I am indebted to the valuable medicinal properties of Vinol for the health of my little son Dale. He had a severe attack of whooping cough and measles, which affected his lungs and general constitution. We tried several other remedies without benefit, then commenced using Vinol, and I take pleasure in acknowledging my confidence in its restorative and reconstructive virtues, for my little son is the picture of health now, all due to the use of Vinol."

This is because th child needed the strengthening cod liver elements and the tonic iron that Vinol contains. No oil, delicious taste. Children love it. We give back your money if Vinol does not do all we claim. Orear-Henry Drug Co., Maryville, Mo.—Advertisement.

If You Wish to Succeed
Save while you are young

Now, the average person can save some, if only a little, out of his or her earnings, and a sure investment is your first thought.

You will be surprised to know that a Jewelry Store is a savings bank in one sense of the word, because buying a Diamond is not an expenditure, but an investment, as you all know that Diamonds have been advancing in price for years, and as the output is small, they will continue to do so. Now, what better investment would you want? Buying stock means a speculation—wearing a Diamond means PLEASURE, and a SAFE INVESTMENT.
